THE ADMIRAL CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY

12/15/40

The Admiral Consolidated Mining Company will establish a new camp at the headwaters of Fifteen Mile Creek, tributary of the Columbia River, about 20 miles from Northport, Washington. The company has acquired a group of claims which John Colby located several months ago. Colby, until lately superintendent of the Red Top Mining Company at Leadpoint, has been transferred to the Admiral Consolidated company. J. Richard Brown, 409 Metals Building, Spokane, is president of both companies. A crosscut tunnel will be driven to open the veins at a depth of about 200 feet. Northport will be the shipping point. The Mining Journal

1/1941

Admiral Mining Company, which has property near Valley, Stevens County, has also acquired 400 acres close to the Canadian border. J. Richard Brown, mining engineer, reports a strike in this property, in an open cut 6 feet deep.

Engineering and Mining Journal

February 1941

Admiral Mining Co., at its new property, 8 miles south of the Canadian line between Orient and Northport, has exposed a vein 35 ft. wide by an 80-ft. cut. The ore is a mass of quartz, carrying iron and copper, with some gold and silver, according to J. Richard Brown, Spokane Mining engineer and manager.

Engineering and Mining Journal

4/15/41

A small crew is engaged in development work at the Admiral Consolidated Mining Company's claims on Fifteen Mile Creek about 20 miles from Northport, Washington. A tunnel is being driven on a copper-gold-silver vein, work being done by hand. A compressor unit and drills may be installed this spring. J. Richard Brown, 409 Metals Building, Spokane, is president and general manager. The Mining Journal