riparian zone with cottonwoods
preserved following tailings removal.
BLM cadastral survey demonstrated that a significant albeit subordinate amount of tailings were positioned on DNR state managed Aquatic lands.

(8) Detail of south side of repository showing mine waste rock armored ditch and germinating hydroseed under fiber (coconut?) mats. Hydro-seed germination away from mats on top of pile and on the flat floor of the former tailings area is poor and soils somewhat compact. They did just receive some rain.... need more.

Overview of former tailings area. Showing main mine head frame and the large instream gravel bar. The bar was sampled and is clean but one ~~the~~ assumption is that it was somehow related to the tailings??
