Gordon Graham's presentation discusses the following:

The Discipline of Risk Management is "Rickover Rules"

Admiral Hyman Rickover is known as the "father of the nuclear navy". This portion of the US Navy has a reputation for excellence as well as a phenomenal safety and reliability record. Admiral Rickover developed some rules for success in dealing with the risks he faced in working with nuclear power. How do these rules apply to you in your organization? Funny yet information packed program that applies to any risk-centric organization.

Five Concurrent Themes for Success

Your job is getting more and more complex. In fact, the more complex it gets, the more you need a systematic approach to getting things done right. This block is essential for everyone in the workplace, regardless of position, job description or type of organization. It is full of information, coupled with Gordon's insight and humor and is a must see for you and your personnel.

Why Things Go Right – Why Things Go Wrong

Most of what the good people in your organization do, they are doing right. When things don't go right there is the potential for nasty consequences. Gordon will show you what the potential consequences are and what are the causal factors most often responsible for these consequences. He will then give you some proven strategies and tactics to address these problems—including a full understanding of the risk/frequency matrix and where it is essential to focus your initial and ongoing efforts.
