OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON

Course Description-

Overview of no body murder cases in general including their history. Mr. DiBiase will go over specific investigative techniques from disappearance through trial. He will walk through one or two actual case studies of cases he has tried and/or worked on. Mr. DiBiase will also discuss cold case techniques including interviewing techniques.

Instructor-

Having been a federal homicide prosecutor for over 12 years, Mr. DiBiase has investigated, prosecuted, and consulted on hundreds of murder cases. He specializes in forensic cases, domestic murders, and "no body" cases and has tried 20 murder cases to juries including a "no body" case. He is currently writing a book on "no body" murder cases. For more information, please go to nobodycases.com.

His high profile cases included including United States versus Harold Austin, only the city's second "no body" murder case ever, and United States versus Sydney Smith, where the main piece of evidence against Smith, a Metro employee who murdered his wife, was a cigarette the defendant left behind at the scene. Other cases he prosecuted include United States v. John Williamson, a murder-for-hire case, and United States v. James Stewart, an attempted murder case involving a man who fired an AK-47 rifle down a street filled with children.
