

Announcing a FREE Training Opportunity in Washington State!

Getting the call that a child in your community has gone missing is one of the worst scenarios that an agency will ever face. Help your department and your community be better prepared by attending NCMEC training courses being presented at the CJTC Training Academy:

Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Seminar: Monday, July 16-Tuesday July 17, 2012 (8:00am-5:00pm both days)

Audience: This 2-day course is specifically designed for command staff: Chiefs, Sheriffs and 911 Directors. Course Description: This course will provide an orientation to issues related to missing children's cases including effective policies and practices, technical assistance, training, and available resources. We will cover working with the media, developing a Law-Enforcement strategy, and a community self assessment. Costs: NCMEC covers 2-nights of hotel lodging, breakfast and lunch on training days, registrations fees, training materials, and instructor's fees.

Additional Information: Please contact NCMEC Training Coordinator, Kimberly Glotzbach, kglotzbach@ncmec.org

Child Protection: Dynamics & Response (CPDR) Course: Wednesday, July 18-Thursdays July 19, 2012 (8:00am-5:00pm & 8:00am-12:00pm)

Audience: This 1.5-day course was developed to provide critical information for those officers, call-takers, dispatchers, and investigators whose initial response to missing child and sexual abuse/exploitation calls is vital to successful recoveries. Course Description: presents an overall review on types of crimes committed against children, from sexual abuse and exploitation to domestic child sex trafficking and abduction Costs: NCMEC covers registrations fees, training materials, and instructor's fees. Additional Information: Please contact NCMEC Training Coordinator,
