

FBINAA WASHINGTON CHAPTER PRESENTS:

TERRORISM TRENDS in THAILAND

Applications and Lessons Learned for Local Law Enforcement

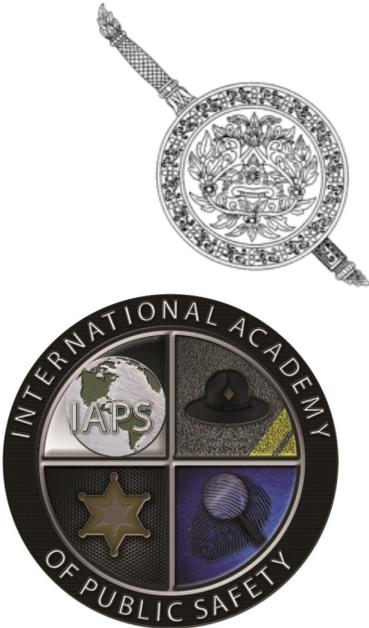

December 5, 2013—Renton Washington

Where: CARCO Theater Time: 0900 to 1200

Address: 1717 SE Maple Valley Hwy Renton, WA 98057

Cost: Free (must register in advance to attend). Don't delay! Send in your registration early as seating is limited.

Sponsored by the International Academy of Public Safety Leadership Development Center

The mission of the IAPS Leadership Development Center is to provide comprehensive leadership, ethics and emotional intelligence training to law enforcement agencies in a flexible, affordable and secure on-line platform. The LDC allows all personnel to be exposed to training which reinforces professionalism and enhances the character of an organization.

Please join us as we welcome the Royal Thai Police who will talk about their efforts in responding to terrorist attacks and what tactics they have learned to share with us. Terror attacks in Thailand are complex and well orchestrated. The bombing techniques and material used are more complex and ruthless than what US law enforcement has trained for. This presentation will help our First Responders better prepare for the future.

You will also hear of their day to day operations, and how the drug war, specifically the drug "Yabba", is being used to disrupt society and finance terrorism. This is a once in a life time learning experience that was exclusively arranged by the FBINAA Washington Chapter.

To register send an email to: Lieutenant Anthony Abuan, Tacoma Police Department: aabuan@cityoftacoma.org

Include: Your Name, agency or employer, contact phone number. You will be notified of your approval.

Registration will continue until capacity is reached for the facility.
