

ROADKILL ON THE INFORMATION HWY— Rights, Responsibilities and Liabilities on the Internet & THE SPIRIT OF LEADERSHIP— Winning Hearts and Inspiring Action

Presented by Val Van Brocklin

FEBRUARY 25, 2014

SPOKANE

Spokane Convention Center
334 W Spokane Falls Blvd

FEBRUARY 26, 2014

LYNNWOOD

Lynnwood Convention Center
32711 196th Street SW

Intended for Leadership and Management, registration is open to public sector employees only.

Register at www.enduris.us

First attendee cost: $150
Each additional staff: $75

NO-CHARGE for members of Enduris,
WCIA, and WCRP

Both days are 8:30 am—3:30 pm | Registration at 8:00 am | Refreshments and lunch included

ABOUT VAL VAN BROCKLIN

Val Van Brocklin is an internationally acclaimed speaker, trainer and noted author. She combines a dynamic presentation style with years of experience as a state and federal prosecutor, where her trial work received national media attention on ABC's Primetime Live, the Discovery Channel's Justice files, in USA Today, The National Enquirer, and Redbook. In addition to her personal appearances, Val appears on television, radio, the internet, and in newspapers, magazine articles and books. Join us for this special presentation.

A WASHINGTON STATE RISK POOL COLLABORATION

A WASHINGTON
STATE RISK POOL
COLLABORATION

THANK YOU
TO OUR SPONSORS

THE SPIRIT OF LEADERSHIP—

Leaders can be found anywhere in an organization. They are those who bring out the best in others and give meaning to the work to be done. This seminar provides the tools for such leadership to all.

Attendees will take from this training:

- An understanding of the impact of leaders' beliefs on employee performance;
- How to apply the power of belief to produce extraordinary performance results;
- A completed leadership audit of yourself and your organization;
- Practical, how-to principles of spirited leadership that bring out the best in others and give new meaning to the work being done.

ROADKILL ON THE INFORMATION HIGHWAY—

Public servants are making headline news and suffering career damaging injuries or career ending fatalities for their internet postings. They're also eroding public trust and hurting their agencies' relations with communities – which makes the job more difficult and dangerous.

Telling public servants to “use common sense” or “don't post anything on the internet you wouldn't want to read in the newspaper” isn't working. Many public employees don't get their news from a paper and their idea of privacy includes a Facebook page with several hundred friends. And while the technology leaps ahead, the law lags behind. Consider:

- Do public servants have any 1st Amendment freedom of expression on the internet?
- Do they have any 4th Amendment expectation of privacy to what they post on the internet?
- Do law enforcement agencies have different responsibilities and liabilities; if so, what are they?
- What actions may agencies take against public employees for their internet postings?
- How might internet postings endanger public servants and their families?

This training answers these questions and more, provides what agencies need to do to get ahead of the technological and legal curve and, most importantly, gets attendees thinking before they “click.”