

NOW HE IS SAFE

PUPPY MILLS & HOARDING

An overview of puppy mills, hoarding, and animal cruelty investigation

Learn how to investigate crimes against animals and successfully execute cases of hoarding and puppy mills. This free class will give you a solid base for investigating animal cruelty and teach you how to successfully recognize and investigate puppy mills and hoarding cases.

Instructor Jeff Eyre has worked in various aspects of law enforcement including assignments as a uniformed police officer, criminal investigator, canine handler, mounted patrol officer, and evidence technician.

WHEN: Monday, May 11th
8:00 am - 4:00 pm

WHERE: South Kitsap Fire & Rescue Station #31
200 Tremont Street West
Port Orchard, WA 98366

FREE

REGISTER: Email Kim Koon at kimk@pasadosafehaven.org

This class offers 7 hours of CJTC certified training.
Space is limited, register soon.

This class is brought to you by
Pasado's Safe Haven and the Washington State
Crime Prevention Association

www.pasadosafehaven.org

Jeffrey C. Eyre, American Humane's Northeast Program and Response Specialist has more than thirty years experience in law enforcement, firefighting, human & animal rescue, animal welfare and cruelty investigation at the local, state and federal level.

He has worked in various aspects of law enforcement including assignments as a uniformed police officer, criminal investigator, canine handler, mounted patrol officer, and evidence technician.

As an animal cruelty investigator he has investigated several thousand cases that included companion animals, farm animals and exotics.

He has deployed to responses for animals in crisis that included floods, wildfires, animal cruelty seizures and hoarding cases both within the United States and Internationally.

He has presented training in local state and national venues on Animal Cruelty Investigation, Large Scale Animal Cases, Large Animal Cruelty Investigation, and Handling Large and Small Animals under Stress.