Latent Fingerprint Detection and Recovery for Field Personnel

Training Opportunity

For Detectives, Patrol Officers, and Fire Investigators

This 8 hour course is presented as an introduction to latent fingerprint detection and recovery for patrol officers, detectives, and fire investigators. This course is not designed to make experts of field personnel, but rather give them greater insight into fingerprints and their potential, which will allow the officer to identify areas and items that might contain fingerprints. Field personnel will also gain greater confidence in their latent processing techniques.

Primary Instructor:
Jodie Dewey

Course Cost: $120. Course Length: 8 hours

Minimum class size is 15 students, must register by February 1, 2011.

Student cancellations must be received by February 1, 2011.

Latent Field Kit will be provided for students who do not have their own.

Providing Excellence in Training and Education

Course Goals:

- Develop a basic understanding of friction ridges and how these impressions are deposited;
- Learn best practices and tips for successful latent processing and evidence collection;
- Gain confidence of latent processing techniques and application of proper equipment use through practical exercises.
