

CIT: New Kids on the Block—Emerging Drugs of Abuse

Presented by:

Alexander Garrard, PharmD, DABAT, Clinical Managing Director, Washington Poison Center; Clinical Assistant Professor, University of Washington – School of Pharmacy

Flakka, Kratom, Bath Salts, Robotripping and more...what are all these new drugs that teens and adults are getting into? Why are these patients so difficult to manage in the ED and how can we improve patient outcomes from drug intoxication? This talk will highlight emerging drugs of abuse, especially those seen in the news recently, and how to effectively treat these patients in order to improve patient outcomes.

Additionally, have you ever wondered how the MR. Yuk number works? The training will include how the Washington Poison Center assists a person that calls for assistance and uses first responders, and will include how first responders can use them as a resource as well. This training will include, videos, handouts, and a question and answer section.

November 29, 2016

FREE TO ATTEND!

8 AM—Noon

WSCJTC Auditorium

19010 1st Ave S

Burien, WA 98148

Register at: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/NCW98KQ>

This training can be used to meet the 24-HR annual in-service training mandate for law enforcement personnel.

Provided by the CIT-King CO and CIT Statewide programs at WSCJTC in partnership with Washington Poison Center and King County Behavioral Health and Recovery Division.