Latinos: Crime, Culture & Community

From the barrio to your backyard! This is not a gang, history, culture or human diversity class... but an intensive examination of the people who make up the Latino community.

The unprecedented expansion of the Latino-Hispanic population in the Northwest U.S has not gone totally unnoticed, but, in many instances, has been largely disregarded. Their impact on the socio-economic fiber of our communities, and their unavoidable collision course with the criminal justice community is undeniable. “Latinos: Crime, Culture & Community” examines cultural factors that are of grave importance to officers, supervisors and managers who recognize the presence of a Hispanic community...in their backyard. Not just the tattoos and hand signs of the gangs and street culture, but so much more! This class explores the make-up, mindset and languages of the barrio.

Various Latino cultures are dissected and examined, drawing from their commonalities while emphasizing their differences. If one word can be used to best describe the focus of this class, it is “characteristics.” A study of those factors and traits that will give the officer a “leg-up” and a true understanding of and means to communicate, regardless of likely language barriers.

An examination of...

*Mexican (North / Central / Southern ethnicities) – Honduran - Guatemalan - Salvadoran - Colombian – Cuban & Puerto Rican

Crime groups: Mexican Drug Cartels, NETA, MS13, Mexican Mafia, Latin Kings, Los Zetas, Nuestra Familia, & More

From Street Crime to Sophisticated Criminal Enterprises: Meth, Cocaine, Heroin, Hydro, the People Trade, Indentured Servitude, Gambling, Prostitution, False Identities and Gun Trafficking

Whether you attend out of mere curiosity or for “skill development,” this class is guaranteed to enhance your perspective and performance when dealing with members of the Latino community.
