

CITY OF MUKILTEO

$113,115 - $137,492

APPLICATION DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 7, 2016

OUR COMMUNITY

Mukilteo is a waterfront community situated on Puget Sound, approximately 25 miles north of Seattle. This scenic area has views of the Olympic Mountains to the west and the Northern Cascade Mountains to the north and east. Mukilteo retains its friendly hospitality and welcomes visitors with its scenic setting by the Sound.

Rich in history, Mukilteo was the site of the 1855 Point Elliott Treaty signed between Territorial Governor Isaac Stevens and 82 Indian Leaders representing 22 tribes. Mukilteo is home to the 1906 Mukilteo Lighthouse and Mukilteo Lighthouse Park, which attract nearly a million visitors annually. Mukilteo balances its sedate and picturesque setting with its role as a transit hub for 2.4 million vehicles and over 4 million commuters who utilize the Sound Transit Train Station, Washington State Ferry service, and State Route 525.

In a twenty-city comparison within Snohomish County, Mukilteo ranked as the 6th lowest overall in property tax rate and the 2nd lowest in city crime rate in Snohomish County. Mukilteo is a safe, attractive community with the kind of services and amenities that continue to attract national attention. Money Magazine named Mukilteo the 10th best town in the United States in 2009 and Business Week Magazine named Mukilteo one of the best affordable suburbs of 2006.

Today the city's population is 21,070 and its diverse, multi-cultural residents continue to share a great sense of pride, history and tradition of community involvement. Mukilteo amenities include an award winning public golf course, quaint shopping areas, restaurants, financial institutions, and several parks and open spaces for recreational opportunities. The city is also a neighbor to the Boeing Company, Paine Field Regional Airport and other major employers along a technology corridor that reaches from northern King County through Mukilteo.

The city provides police and fire services, street improvements and maintenance, community development services, general administrative services, parks and recreation management, and owns and operates a storm drainage utility.
