Purpose of the proposal and its anticipated effects, including any changes in existing rules:

Establish a process to grant a basic reserve law enforcement officer a certificate of equivalency for persons who have incurred a break in service as a Washington reserve law enforcement officer and desire to return to service as a reserve law enforcement officer.

Persons who have elected to serve as volunteer reserve law enforcement officers may have a break in service as a reserve law enforcement officer. If a reserve law enforcement officer incurs a break in service in excess of twelve consecutive months, the officer's recognition as a reserve law enforcement officer is considered to have lapsed. This WAC establishes a process of certain conditions that must be met for a person who has been a reserve law enforcement officer and incurred a break in service to have that person's status and recognition as a reserve law enforcement officer reinstated.
