Purpose of the proposal and its anticipated effects, including any changes in existing rules:

The Washington State Board of Health recently updated rules within chapter 246-215 WAC and chapter 246-100 WAC, specific to its authority, to adopt by reference the 20th edition of the Control of Communicable Diseases Manual, as published by the American Public Health Association. The rules now reflect national, best current practices for infectious disease control. The purpose of this proposal is to update the reference in WAC 246-138-030, which falls under the Secretary of Health's authority, to the 20th edition of the Control of Communicable Diseases Manual, as published by the American Public Health Association, to establish the same standard throughout all health rules within Title 246 WAC.

Reasons supporting proposal:

The Communicable Diseases Control Manual is a document that local health officials and health care providers refer to in response to infectious disease. The State Board of Health (board) recently updated rules within chapter 246-215 WAC and chapter 246-100 WAC to assure the board's rules reflect national, current best practice regarding infectious disease control. It is necessary for the Department of Health to update WAC 246-138-030 to be consistent with the other rules within Title 246 WAC. The rules will adopt by reference without material change a national consensus code that generally establishes industry standards.
