In 2002 Ms. Crosetto changed her point of diversion from a ditch to a ring well, and upgraded to a more efficient irrigation system. A portion of water saved from that project was changed into

Trust water in 2003 (instantaneous and volume). This new transfer marks the remaining portion of that water savings to accompany the already Trusted water.

The Washington Water Trust is proposing a temporary transfer of Dorothy J. Crosetto's water to protect the remaining savings her new irrigation system has created. The water will be placed in the State Trust Water Rights program from May 1, 2006 to June 23, 2013, the same period her existing Trust water is held within the program. Dorothy J. Crosetto's irrigation season, as provided by her 1889 priority date water right, is from May 1 to September 15.
