NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT: Water users of the Selah-Moxee Irrigation District will reduce diversions from the Yakima River at the Moxee-Hubbard point of diversion by 10,000 acre feet. The district has implemented a water conservation program to reduce water consumption. Three canals have been consolidated under single management. Ten (10) miles of canal have been lined. New measurement equipment has been installed. Farmers have converted over 4,310 acres to drip irrigation. Some lands have been idled. See attached memo for additional information. This application seeks an extension of a 2006 donation to the Washington State Trust Water Right Program under Temporary Trust Water Right No. CS4-01651CTCL@2.
