Subject: rooftop residential solar electric systems

Dear State Building Code Council,

I understand you are considering second-guessing the expert recommendations of the technical advisory group, and making changes thereto. Please don't. I have solar hot water, and would love to be able to generate solar electricity as well. Please adopt ALL of the technical advisory group's recommendations without change, including an exemption from setback requirements when solar panels cover less than 40% of the home's roof. Please do not require potential solar installations to be reviewed by local fire officials (who know little if anything about solar system requirements) before proceeding.

Thank you,
Frances E. Blair
